

Dr. Diana Sanchez-Ramirez

Dr. Diana Sanchez-Ramirez is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Respiratory Therapy at the College of Rehabilitation Sciences, Rady Faculty of Health Sciences, University of Manitoba. She is a registered Physical Therapist with international training and research experience in clinical research, public health, epidemiology, and medical education. Dr. Sanchez has conducted studies exploring the long-term impact of COVID-19 in different populations and is currently studying the feasibility of using wearable devices and technology to better understand, manage, and monitor the symptoms of patients experiencing post-COVID syndrome.